DKDM Det Kongelige Danske Musikkonservatorium

I dag var en festdag på DKDM. Rektor åbnede det akademiske år og bød velkommen til alle studerende og ansatte i Koncertsalen med masser af vidunderlig musik.

Traditionen tro åbnede DKDM Brass med John Williams' Olympic Fanfare and Theme og derefter blev vi beriget med værker af Ravel, Carl Nielsen, Rachmaninov og Olivier Messiaen fremført af DKDMs dygtige studerende:

- DKDM Brass dirigeret af Jesper Juul
- AKELA Strygekvartet
- Pianist, Kristian Riisager
- Tubaist, August Schieldrop
- Organist, Sergei Teplyi

De Nye Studerendes Kor

Sidst, men absolut ikke mindst sang de nye studerendes kor, "Ole sad på en knold og sang" samt "I skovens dybe stille ro", så smukt og stemningsfuldt under ledelse af Bente Colding-Jørgensen og akkompagneret af Aeji Choi.

Rektor, Uffe Savery, overdrog dirigentstokken - eller trommestikken - til DKDM's nye rektor, Niels Rosing-Schow.

Vi ønsker alle studerende & ansatte et fremragende studieår.

RDAM Royal Danish Academy of Music

Today was an occasion at RDAM. Rector opened The Academic Year and welcomed all the students and employees in the Concert Hall with a lot of wonderful music.

In keeping with tradition RDAM opened by RDAM Brass and John Williams' Olympic Fanfare and Theme, and after that we listened to works by Ravel, Carl Nielsen, Rachmaninov and Olivier Messiaen performed by the competent students of RDAM:

- RDAM Brass, conducted by Jesper Juul
- AKELA String Quartet
- Pianist Kristian Riisager
- Tubaist August Schieldrop
- Organist Sergei Teplyi

"Choir Of The New Students"

Last, but absolutely not least, a choir of starting students sang "Ole sang as he watched his sheep" and "I skovens dybe stille ro" lovely and moving under the direction of Bente Colding-Jørgensen, and accompaniment by Aeji Choi.

Rector, Uffe Savery, handed over the conductor's baton - or rather the drumstick - to the new Rector of RDAM, Niels Rosing-Schow.

We wish all students & employees an outstanding academic year.
